Summary: Hawk Moth's creations get more advanced and even more dangerous, maybe even too much for Chat and Ladybug. A new hero comes into play, and helps to stop the threat. The only thing is, Hawk Moth is a minor threat compared to what is yet to come.

1. The beginnings

The rain poured down in the darkness of the night, leaving everything drenched and dreary looking. Lightning struck the cool night air with a loud BOOM! There was barely any traffic in the streets of Paris, the streets looked dark and drenched.

In the silents of the night, splashing and the pounding of feet was heard.

Lusa ran with all her strength to get away from the danger of which she escaped from. Her chest and legs burned from exhaustion, and adrenaline flowed through her blood. Her heart pounded in her chest, fear gripped at her mind, and grew with every passing second, you could see it in her countenance. A few tears managed to escape her eyes.

Lusa spotted an alley a few blocks ahead. It didn't seem to be occupied, so she ran as fast as she could, using the last bit of energy she could manage to get to that alley. When she finally reached it, she was exhausted. She could barely breath with the fear all welled up inside of her.

She leaned up against the wall to take a breather, when she finally calmed down, she slid back against the wall, onto the floor. Lusa held her legs tight, tears flowed down her cheeks as she gently whispered...mom. She buried her face in her legs.

Lusa didn't realize, that someone saw her.

Master Fu watched as the girl sobbed alone in the dreary alley. He looked at her with a soft expression and a tiny box in his hand. He gave the box a little squeeze as he stepped away from the alley. Master Fu ponders about the situation. Just then, he was pushed up against the wall with brutal force.

Master Fu gets the air knocked right out of him. "Say, mind giving a guy a couple of bucks?" The mugger sneers. It just might save your life. The mugger pulls out a knife.

Lusa dries her tears as she looks up from her legs. She hears someone talking out side of the alley she was currently resting in. She gets up and slowly peers around the corner, her eyes widen with surprise as she witnesses an old man getting mugged buy a guy twice his size. She blindly jumps from the alley and yells, "HEY!" The mugger looks over, with an annoyed expression on his face. Lusa continues, "Leave him alone, or we're gonna have some problems!"

The mugger's annoyed expression suddenly turns into humor as her bursts out laughing. "The only problem here is that a little girl like you is challenging a guy twice your size!" The mugger then laughs even harder.

Lusa takes this opportunity to kick the knife from the mugger's hand, she catches the knife and holds it up to his neck. The mugger immediately stops laughing and throws his hands up in surrender.

"Looks can be deceiving." Lusa then throws the knife in the alley. "Get out of here, before I call the police!" The mugger has a shocked expression on his face as her runs away from that location. Lusa looks to Master Fu. The pouring rain turns into a drizzle, then clears up.

"Are you ok?" Lusa asks.

"Oh quite alright," Faster Fu replies. "Say, what what are you doing out here all alone, where is your family?"

"Uh um, well you see..." Lusa then sighs. "I don't have a family anymore, it's not a subject I feel comfortable talking about," Lusa looks down in sorrow.

"I completely understand," Master Fu looks at Lusa with a soft expression. "Come with me, I just might have a place for you to say." While Lusa follows right beside him, Master Fu secretly slips a box in her jacket pocket.

**Hi guys I hope you liked the story so far. I usually just post when I can, this story has been in my head for a long time. I hope you enjoyed, stay tuned for next time.**

2. The start of something amazing

**Hi guys, sorry I haven't been posting lately, there is a good reason behind this. There is something about Lusa you don't know yet, and will be revealed to you in this chapter. Anyway, I hope you like it.**

The rain clears up as they reach the house of Master fu. Lusa stares at the ground with no emotion, Master fu notices this when he looks at her.

"Do you have something on your mind?" He asks with concern. "N-...no, I'm fine." Lusa answers still staring at the ground.

They reach the Master's house and Lusa looks up to see it.

"Is this your house?" Lusa asks as she stares at the house.

"Yes, it's quite cozy."

Master fu then opens the door to his house and holds it open for Lusa. Lusa steps into the house, then looks back at Master fu.

"Thanks."

Master fu nods.

Master fu leads Lusa to a room, he opens the door to reveal an open space with a closet, bed, and nightstand with a mirror.

"This is where you will be staying."

Lusa step into the room.

"Make yourself at home." Master fu says.

He then closes the door, Lusa lets out a sigh, she takes off her jacket and throws it to the side. In doing this, the box that Master fu had slipped inside of her jacket pocket, falls out of her pocket. Lusa looks in the direction of the tiny box, with curiosity she walks toward the box. When she reaches the box, she sits on her knees in front of it to examine it. She slowly lifts the top open, a ball of light then forms above the box. Lusa stumbles back, a tiny fox looking creature with a big head and tiny body appears from the ball of light (the kwami ). When the light disappears, the kwami is left there. the kwami says hi, but is shortly interrupted by a scream.

(Meanwhile at hawk moth's lair)

Hawk moth let out a frustrated grunt as he stomps his wand on the ground.

"GR AH! Everyone of my creations so far have failed me! Those two heroes wouldn't be so strong if I could get those miraculous! I need more power! Hawk moth walks over to his window "It seems as if the only thing I can do is make more villains, but what good will that do, there hasn't been any unhappiness around here lately."

"I need another option, but I have none."

Hawk moth puts his arm against the window, and puts his face against his arm in defeat. Just then a voice rang out, filling the whole room with the loudness of the words that came from a mysterious person's mouth. "Hawk moth!" The voice rang out. Hawk moth immediately got up from his spot and looked around frantically. "Who's there!?"

Suddenly, the wall starts becoming wavy like when you throw a pebble into water, then a man wearing a dark mask that covers his whole face, armor, and a long flowing cape phases through the wall into hawk moth's lair. "I am phantom, and I have an offer for you. How would you like to have the power to create even stronger villains then you ever thought possible.

"Is this a joke?! Hawk moth asked in disgust," I can already do this, get out of here before I-"

"Before you what!? You are powerless without your precious villains, and they won't do you any good, they can't even defeat those two super buffoons, so as far as I know, you can't do anything. I on the other hand don't need someones feelings to aid power, which is why I'm here. There is more to my offer then what I said, if your man enough to handle it."

Hawk moth thinks for a moment.

"What's the catch?"

"There is none."

Hawk moth smiles, and Phantom explains his plan.

(Back at Master fu's house)

"Ahh, what the-, what are-, how did-, are you-"

"Lusa calm down, I'm here to help-"

Suddenly Lusa's eyes glow, much to the kwami's amazement. She manipulates a portion of light from the room, the light forms around her fist. She then runs at the kwami full speed.

"No no no I'm not a threat calm down. The kwami ducks a punch from Lusa's glowing fists of fury. " Please calm down, I'm here to help!" The kwami makes an effort to dodge the deadly punches that Lusa was throwing.

Lusa corners the kwami to a wall and runs at it once more. "I'm a friend please stand down!" The kwami shields herself with her arms from the hurting that Lusa was about to put on her, but when Lusa was an inch away from the kwami, her fists stop glowing, and she pins the kwami to the wall, knocking the air out of her.

"I rebuke you in the name of Jesus!" Lusa says on a count of three that's the first thing that came to mind. The kwami had a dumbfound look on her face.

"huh," the kwami said in confusion. Then she realized what that meant. "Hey!" The kwami said with fury. "I AM NOT A-"

She was cut off when Lusa's other hand started to glow bright with a blast ready. The kwami starts to panic. "hey hey, I am not a threat, I'm here to help, just please put that away." Lusa jumps right to the point. "Then what are you- who are you, why are you here?"

The kwami sighs, "The name is Va pin, but you can just call me V ,I'm a kwami, I grant powers and you've got some problems."

Lusa releases V and rubs the back of her head in guilt. "eh heh, sorry."

"Anyway your power is the power o-" Va pin was cut off by Lusa.

"Wait wait wait, what do you mean my power?"

"You opened the box right?" V asked.

"Right..." Lusa answered.

"That means you were the one chosen to wield the power of music, which is the power I provide."

"Wait chosen? Who chose me?"

"That, I can't tell you, and you can't tell anyone about me or your powers, kapeesh?"

"So you mean to tell me, that I was chosen to wield some out of this world power, that I might not even need, and I can't tell anyone?"

"Hey I'm pretty sure you'll need it."

"Are we now ignoring the fact that I might have accidentally killed you with my other power."

"Oh gosh don't remind me, but I'm pretty sure I was assigned to you for a reason, so I'm staying by my point that you might just need me."

"OK if you insist, just keep explaining."

V flies over to the box from which she appeared, she flies back to Lusa with a necklace that has a fox tail charm on the end. She keeps explaining as she hooks the necklace around her neck.

"This is your miraculous, it helps you transform into a super hero. Your weapon is a flute, which doubles as a staff. You play the flute, and the music surrounds the villain or beast, and takes the akuma out, or disassembles them, but it takes a great deal of power to purify it and you'll detransform right away, so your gonna have to get the holder of the miraculous of creation to do it."

"Ok what's her name?" Lusa asks curiously.

"Beats me."

"I still don't understand this, why was I chosen now of all times?" Lusa question

"I don't know, but it must be important. From my knowledge, Paris already has two super heroes, since I've been activated something must be coming, something even they might not be able to handle...at least, not without your help.

"Then what do I do?" Lusa asks a little nervous.

"All you have to do is say melody awaken."
